Chimney Rock overlooking Lake Lure & the Blue Ridge Foothills

Relax & Recharge

RUTHERFORD COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

Relax and recharge this fall with gorgeous color. Hike, boat, climb, drive, fish and play inside our canvas of deep reds, burnt oranges and bright golds. Then, rest the night away at Rumbling Bald Resort or The Esmeralda Inn, two of our premier lodging properties surrounded by scenic lake, mountain and waterfall views. Designed by Mother Nature herself and within 30 minutes of Tryon International Equestrian Center, make plans to enjoy all the ways you can admire fall color in Lake Lure & the Blue Ridge Foothills of Rutherford County, N.C.

1) Chimney Rock at Chimney Rock State Park

Chimney Rock is best known for its 75-mile panoramic views overlooking Lake Lure. Ancient geological features like Devil's Head and the Opera Box, scenic hiking trails, wildlife programs and guided rock climbing attract visitors from around the world. The 535-million-year-old rock monolith is accessed by climbing the 499-step Outcroppings trail known as the "Ultimate Stairmaster" that includes these newly reopened features: the Grotto, Subway and Pulpit Rock. These trail stops offer unique views of the Hickory Nut Gorge and the Carolina Piedmont. John Mason, a self-taught, award-winning hammered dulcimer player of 30+ years can be found most days playing the dulcimer and entertaining guests with his stories at the base of Chimney Rock.

Marvel at the grand finale of WNC's legendary fall colors, peaking mid-Oct. to early Nov., and take a guided fall color or wildflower hike. Admire leaf colors from a new perspective—on a rope—by booking a rock-climbing lesson in advance with Fox Mountain Guides, no experience required. Or simply gaze at a stunning 404-foot waterfall from a distance. Don't forget your camera!

THIS IS My HORSE

He's taught me lessons like how to meet a horse in the middle, and how when you believe in a horse, he does his best for you. Sure, you have to give in a little bit to his quirky personality, but he tries for me. I'd much rather have a horse that does it their own way, but gives you what he has, than a horse that is super talented, but always finds a way to knock a jump down. He's straight, and aside from the ring, I just really like him. He's probably the last horse I'll ride in the championships that my dad trained, so he's special to me in that way, too.
